

Weekly Woodpecker Class News (16.9.16)

After two weeks back at school after the summer break we are showing great effort and attitude towards our work, wanting to improve and learn more!

This week, in English, we continued our study of Charlie and the Chocolate Factory by Roald Dahl. We have been focussing on creating effective sentences using rhetorical questions, noun phrases, repetition, similes, powerful verbs and adverbs. We also analysed the descriptions of Augustus Gloop and Veruca Salt - interpreting the evidence in order to help us to sketch the characters and explain the impressions that the written descriptions give. As well as this, we completed a Grammar, Punctuation and Spelling baseline assessment.

In Maths this week, we have been reading and writing numbers to 100 000, 1 000 000 and 10 000 000 (exploring place value). We also explored a number investigation about summing digits and completed an Arithmetic and Reasoning baseline assessment.

We were introduced to our first Science unit of the year 'We are Space Presenters', where we will research and create our own Stargazing-type programmes, based on research, that are practical and clear in their explanations. So far (in groups) we have discussed our current knowledge on The Solar System, Day and Night and The Lunar Month and created 3 key questions to investigate.

In Topic, we created the covers for our books; we also used Google Maps to identify and map the different locations and terrains that the Ancient Maya occupied.

Elsewhere, we celebrated Roald Dahl's 100th birthday by taking part in the Puffin Books live online party, where we learnt more about his life, saw how to draw like Quentin Blake and watched a performance of the cast of Matilda. In addition, we took part in PE and Art lessons.
