News: Over the past few weeks, we have been reviewing our Reading Scheme Books. Through generous support from the School Association, we have purchased dozens of new books for children across the school from our youngest learners in Reception to our more confident and fluent readers in the Juniors. In addition to scheme readers, and with thanks to the Kelmarsh Windfarm Fund, we have also purchased dozens of exciting new “real” books to replenish our Infant Library, the class libraries in Kingfisher and Woodpecker Classes, and The Book Nook. Children in Owl Class are encouraged to get to know a selection of library books inside out and it has been a pleasure to see their excitement and enthusiasm as they accurately recall familiar stories they have enjoyed this year. The book “One Tiny Turtle” has been a particular favourite this week, and children recalled so many new facts and vocabulary – they especially liked this video version: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=u5hwlHo-0xl>. We are delighted that our Reading Volunteers have returned to school. The children thoroughly enjoy spending time each week sharing stories and their reading books with an adult – so a massive thank you to everyone who supports us in developing reading and a love of books for all our pupils at Clipston School.
