News: This week, in assemblies we have been focusing on Earth Day, discussing why our planet is in danger and what politicians are pledging to do to address the effects of pollution. We have also been learning about the holy month of Ramadan, and what it means for Muslims going about their daily lives. Pupils in Year 5&6 have been writing poems, reflecting their learning in R.E. You can read two of them in the attachment and they can also be found being read aloud by the authors themselves on our Twitter feed. Owl and Robin Classes have been making the most of the sunshine with lots of outdoor learning and the Year 3&4 pupils have been learning about muscles and the digestive system. We have been very fortunate to have received some lovely books donated to the Infant Library by Mrs Bellamy and would also like to thank Mr Walleit for the donation of Outdoor Construction Play resources.

Children in the Upper Juniors have written poems using their learning about Christian Communities from their Religious Education “Kingdom of God” lessons as a stimulus. Here are two lovely poems, showcasing the dreams and aspirations of two of our Year 6 pupils.

If I ruled the world.

If I ruled,
If I ruled the world,
Everyone would be kind,
Kind and fair.
Bullying would stop,
Stop forever.
Projects would be set,
Set up for all, especially those,
Those who fear,
Fear that they will be one of those who sit by the side of shops on streets.
Kindness would be shared,
Happy lives, happy hearts,
Friends would be made,
And we would all live together,
Together in the kingdom I made.

By Bella – Year 6

What if...?

If I ruled,
The world would be fair.
Help the homeless, people should be there.

No bullying or racism,
Treat us all the same.
Let our hearts all beat together and friendship be our joint name.

Be friends with all - and enemies with none,
We all live together,
In my kingdom.

Help is at hand if you are in need,
Friendships forever, even when in need.
Even when you feel blue, someone will always love you.

So let our hearts beat together, even when in doubt,
Because we are all humans,
So let's live, love, help each other out.
