News: In Assembly this week, we discussed Earth Day, which takes place every year on 22nd April. We learnt about the first ever Earth Day which was held in 1970 in America when 20 million people took part in protests against environmental issues that they felt were being ignored like oil spills and air pollution. Children thoughtfully discussed how these protests brought about new laws designed to protect the planet and how it inspired the modern day Climate Change movement. We also discussed a book called The Last Bear by Hannah Gold, a signed copy of which has been snapped up for review by an eager reader! It is always lovely to pop into classes and see how the children are progressing. Children in Kingfishers have been writing reviews of their Science Unit – producing some brilliantly creative double page spreads to show-case their learning. As each class prepares to perform the poem they have learnt by heart, one Year 4 pupil could recite the whole of “From A Railway Carriage” by Robert Louis Stevenson from memory having learnt it last year – amazing! And finally, the older children are really looking forward to the Young Voices Concert at the Resorts World Arena next week.
